Our Weekly News

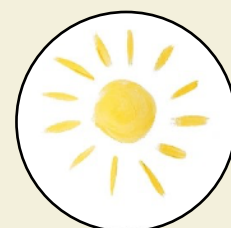

Seedlings' trip to the Park.

This term, all the classes are taking a little trip to Lloyds Park.

Last week, the children in Seedlings enjoyed walking to the park and exploring.

They went on a tree trail that has been provided by the Friends of Lloyds Park. They also had snack in the park and saw a huge vehicle cutting the grass, which they were very interested in!

The children enjoyed their walk back to school afterwards, looking out for wildlife and flowers along the way.

Summer School.

If you returned a booking form for your child to attend our Summer Holiday School, then confirmation and an invoice have now been sent to you by email from finance@walthamstowmontessori.com.

If you have not yet received confirmation, then please contact the office ASAP. Payment is due on or before Friday 23rd May to secure the place.

Road Safety Day.

We are having a Road Safety Awareness Day on Wednesday. It is planned to become a regular half termly event for all classes.

SCHOOL TRIPS

Lots of trips to Lloyds Park planned this week:
Elm Class: Mon 19th May
Brookcroft: Wed 21st May
Oak Class: Thu 22nd May

Last week at WMS.

The children enjoyed fun 'Out and About' sessions. The older children practised large body movements by pretending to be vehicles. The younger children created air, land, and water vehicles using natural materials. They also explored textures with cornflour and water in the sensory tray.

Throughout the week, the children learned about the history of aeroplanes. They learned about the Wright Brothers and made their own paper planes for classroom displays. They also counted and discussed aeroplane parts and their functions.

The daily Montessori work cycle continues, with the children growing very familiar with the routine and particularly enjoying Practical Life and sensorial exercises.

Oak Class baked flapjacks, and Elm Class made apple bites dipped in chocolate and sprinkles. Aryna was Seedlings' flower monitor. Our music lesson with Musicadoo was another huge success!

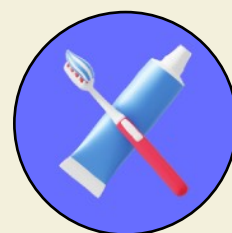

At Brookcroft, the children were inspired by the book of the week, creating detailed drawings. They also enjoyed sunny garden time with music, watering plants, and playful mud kitchen emergencies involving burnt cakes, 999 calls and fire engines!

Book of The Week.

'Last Stop on Market Street' by Matt de la Peña. A lovely, beautifully illustrated book.

CJ starts his weekly bus ride across the city feeling disappointed and frustrated, wishing he and his family could drive a car like his friends do. But with warmth and wisdom, his nana shows him the joy and beauty hidden in their everyday journey.

Teeth Brushing.

In light of the government's new campaign to raise awareness about the importance of young children brushing their teeth, we are introducing some new activities on the shelves in each classroom.

These will cover how to brush your teeth, as well as what to eat to have healthy, strong teeth. We have bought new books about visiting the dentist and teeth brushing, and we will all be learning a new song about good brushing!
